McGonigle Speaks About Recent Russian Journey

By Robert Stewart

"WE DO NOT want a big anything controlling our party," Arthur T. McGonigle, unsuccessful candidate for governor last year, told a Republican rally last night at the East Stroudsburg Armory.

McGonigle spoke of his recent trip to Russia, and drew parallels between the United States and the USSR in the production of consumer and military goods.

A visit to the Soviet Union, he said, will quickly show the tourist the strength and weaknesses of the forces in Russia. The Russians, he said, are united and working toward a goal of catching up with the U. S. first in the military line, then in those comforts for the people.

He stressed that the people of Russia are not unhappy. "We should not, he said, worry so much about the USSR as our enemy as our own selves."

"Have we lost the spirit to

Steel Strike Puzzle To Wage Earners

By The Associated Press

A PUZZLE to many a wage earner who barely keeps ahead of his bills is how a half-million striking Steelworkers have weathered 15 weeks without their regular pay.

Their living standard has been sharply reduced but there is little evidence of down-right hardship.

How do they do it—particularly when unemployment compensation is banned to strikers in every major steel-making state except New York?

Ingenuity and help from various sources appear to be the answers.

An Associated Press survey of steel centers shows only a minority of the strikers have gone on relief—though the bill for those who have runs into millions of dollars.

Unknown Number

An unknown number of thousands of strikers have taken temporary jobs—ranging from longshoring to driving taxicabs.

Working wives have helped out. A number of families had more than one income, with the wife or son or daughter holding a job.

A number of workers, expecting a strike, saved against the "rainy days" that now number 107.

Food comes from such varied sources as government surpluses and the friendly neighbor next door. Some workers like on farms and provide their own food.

The Steelworkers Union provides help for food and emergencies.

Retail merchants in steel centers have been generous with credit, trusting customers to pay up when they return to their jobs. Utility bills often go unpaid.

Chairman Of County GOP Hurls Charge At Democrats

GERALD A. SNYDER, Monroe County Republican chairman, last night charged the local Democrat Committee with false statements of fact.

In his reply to an advertisement appearing in yesterday's paper, Snyder said the audit of records of county commissioners will prove that county taxes have increased under the present administration contrary to claims made by the Democrats.

"Upon taking office on Jan. 1 of 1956, the Democrats increased the county tax from the 11 mills of the last Republican year to 14 mills. The outgoing Republican administration left the Democrats with a balance of $126,000 and there should have been no reason to increase county taxes. But the Democrats did increase taxes because under their administration they doubled the cost of government from what it had been four years previously. While the Republican administration had spent $416,000 in 1954 the present Democrat administration has spent a total of $825,000 in 1958."

"It is unbelievable that such a thing should happen but the Democrats who now occupy the courthouse have been guilty of unwise spending including staggering convention expenses totaling hundreds of dollars," he said.

Hit Hard

"Both Republican and Democrat voters know that their pocketbooks have been hit hard and the Democrat Committee cannot make them believe otherwise," he finished.

In doubling the cost of government from what it was under the previous administration to the present time, the Democrats have gone on a wild borrowing spree to meeting costs, Snyder said.

They have broken faith with the voter and indebtedness of the county has reached staggering proportions, contrary to the claims of the Democrat Committee. Bills are not being paid currently, he said.

Cuba Shows Anti-U.S. Move

Neighboring Relations Deteriorate

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's rejection of U.S. government complaints over Fidel Castro's behavior suggested Wednesday that the anti-American campaign here probably will be intensified.

Thus far, no cool heads have popped up within the revolutionary Cabinet to urge moderation. Instead, the men who have been most bitter in the attacks on the United States appear to have Prime Minister Castro's ear.

Cuban-American relations have deteriorated since May, when Castro's sweeping agrarian program became law. This limits the size of plantations and ranches and provides for distribution of seized acreage to landless farmers.

Critics say the Castro regime is in economic trouble and must create a crisis to hide its difficulties.

Deny Statements

Castro's supporters deny such statements as of counter-revolutionary inspiration. They offer statistics to show that Cuba, in this 10th month under Castro, is much better off than it was under Fulgencio Batista, ousted president.

Students of Castro's regime say its trend is unmistakably toward "socializing and Cubanizing" every phase of activity.

Americans here are concerned over American investments estimated at more than $50 million dollars.

A growing complaint is that the agrarian reform program appears to be giving control of Cuban farmlands to the state through the increasingly powerful Institute of Agrarian Reform.

The institute is dotting Cuba with cooperatives. Critics of the program, using a term popular in the Communist sphere, call them "collective farms."

Politically, Castro has lost substantial support at home, but the great Cuban masses—workers and farmers—likely are backing him as staunchly as they did when he came to power Jan. 1.

Bombing Conviction In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A circuit court jury Wednesday convicted Jesse Raymond Perry, 24, of bombing the Little Rock School Board offices and fixed his punishment at three years in the penitentiary.

Perry appeared stunned at the verdict.

The prosecution had asked a sentence of five years and a $500 fine, the maximum under an old Arkansas law covering bombings.

The state made no attempt to show that Perry actually was present when school board offices were bombed the night of Sept. 7. It sought to show instead that he knew the building was to be bombed and aided and abetted the bomber.

J. D. Sims, 35, testified Wednesday that he actually set the bomb but that Perry knew what he was going to do and handled the dynamite while Sims went on another bombing job.

Motion Deadline

Judge William J. Kirby gave the defense 30 days to file a motion for a new trial. He said he would defer formal sentencing until such a motion is acted upon.

The state's key witness was Sims, who pleaded guilty to bombing the school board offices and now is serving a five-year prison sentence.

But the most damaging evidence against Perry was his own statement, given to police the second day after he was arrested.

In the statement, Perry said he had agreed to dynamite a station wagon belonging to Fire Chief Gann Nalley but that he backed out at the last minute. Perry said the bombings were to be part of a plan to harass Little Rock for accepting public school integration.

Both Perry and Sims said Sims bombed Nalley's car for Perry and then carried out his own assignment—the school board blast.

Medical History

Surgeons Restore Severed Limb

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—A team of surgeons successfully sewed a severed and crushed leg back on an injured man in an unprecedented operation, the Hayward Daily Review reported Wednesday.

The operation was performed three months ago in Mt. Eden Hospital on Billy Smith, 25, whose right leg was virtually severed in an industrial accident.

Smith is still in the hospital. The right leg is two inches shorter than the left and still without sensation.

It will never be entirely normal, one of the surgeons said, but, "it will be better than anything he can buy in a store."

The doctors, who insisted on anonymity said they could find no parallel in medical annals.

They said it bore little resemblance to the highly publicized plan of a Russian surgeon to graft a leg from a dead person onto a 20-year-old girl amputee.

The operation was an unplanned, spur of the moment thing inspired by experiences of an orthopedic surgeon in the Korean War.

Only a two-inch strip of skin connected the upper and lower portions of Smith's leg after a traveling crane mangled him July 22.

The surgeon's personal experience with war casualties had shown that damaged bones, blood vessels and skin will knit together if given the opportunity.

Ike Reveals Plans For Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower disclosed Wednesday that all major Western leaders, French President Charles de Gaulle included, have agreed to hold a Western summit conference within the next few months.

De Gaulle evidently is calling the turn on timing. He also apparently is going to get his way about putting off until sometime next spring a subsequent East-West summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Western session may take place before the end of the year, perhaps in Paris, Eisenhower said the time and place remain to be worked out.

There have been plenty of indications that a Western conference was a certainty. But Eisenhower's statement to a news conference that de Gaulle will be ready for one around mid-December was the first definite word the French leader has agreed to attend.

The news conference got around to other topics.

Eisenhower applied a bit more pressure for ending the steel strike, said it is puzzling why Cuba's Fidel Castro is so unhappy with the United States, and envisioned no significant reductions in U.S. defense spending in the budget he will send to Congress in January.

It also was announced that the President plans to undergo his annual thorough physical checkup at Walter Reed Army Medical Center soon, possibly later this week.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the head-to-toe examination has nothing to do with the cold Eisenhower has been trying unsuccessfully to shake since early last month.

The President has been getting an annual checkup for several years.

Eisenhower told newsmen that a contract between Kaiser Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers Union, ending a small segment of the steel strike, "should be a signal for labor and management to find a basis in which we can get back into full production."

"To my mind," the President said, "the country not only needs it, but I think the country is more and more demanding it and I believe that these two sides should be ready to make 'the conciliatory moves that will make it possible.'"

With reference to Cuban Prime Minister Castro's tirades against the United States, Eisenhower was asked: "What do you suppose, sir, is eating him?"

The chief executive laughed along with everybody else, then turned serious. He declined to go into Castro's motives. He gave his backing to a State Department Tuesday contending that relations between the two countries are being hurt by Castro's charges that the United States opposes him and supports his enemies.

Eisenhower was asked about the possibility of cutting defense spending in the light of the Soviet announcement Tuesday that the new Soviet budget will hit a record high for peacetime but that defense spending will be held at the present level.

Ike, Rockefeller Confab Political

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller conferred with President Eisenhower for 70 minutes Wednesday and said afterward the discussion dealt in part with politics.

But Rockefeller, a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, declined to tell newsmen whether there was discussion of his personal political plans.

STEEL PACT CRACKS STRIKE WALL—Edgar F. Kaiser, left, chairman of the Kaiser Steel Corporation, and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, sign a contract in Washington. The agreement sent 7,500 workers back to their jobs on the West Coast after a 104-day walkout and provided the first major break in the strike that still has more than 500,000 men out in 95 companies. The two-year pact includes a 100-cent-an-hour increase in employee benefits, a 12 1/2-cent wage boost and establishment of a joint committee to recommend a "long-range formula" for industry progress.

Front-Line Negotiators To Try Again In Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Front-line negotiators agreed Wednesday to take another crack at settling the 106-day steel strike. They'll meet in Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon.

David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president, and R. Conrad Cooper, U.S. Steel Corp. vice president, will lead four-man teams back to the bargaining table.

A few hours after the announcement, the government's chief mediator served notice there will be a joint bargaining session in Washington Monday—unless the Pittsburgh talks prove productive.

Director

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation Service, advised McDonald and Cooper they and their associates would be expected to attend the conference.

The four-man teams last met here Sunday.

Since then the negotiations have been on an individual company basis, with union subcommittees and company industrial relations groups doing most of the talking.

Visibility

It was visible for about 10 minutes before it dropped below the horizon and into the Atlantic.

The launching was a test of the inflatable satellites which later will be used in communications experiments, as reflectors of radio and radar beams in space.

Although the sphere when inflated was huge in size, it weighed only 130 pounds.

The sphere was visible to millions in the metropolitan New York and New Jersey area. Newspaper and radio station switchboards were flooded with calls of inquiry.

The complete payload package, including the round magnesium container, 26 1/2 inches in diameter, in which the sphere was folded, weighed 190 pounds.

A multitude of phone calls yesterday concerning a strange light in the sky proved to be something less than a new-type of "flying saucer," the Daily Record learned.

McGuire Air Force Base demonstrated a new kind of weather rocket, and officials north as far as Boston, west as far as Harrisburg, and south as far as Baltimore were flooded with calls.

The Daily Record received a number of calls from citizens who were more curious than worried.

Negotiators Wide Apart In Differences

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Negotiators in the steel strike can't even agree on the value of a wage package proposal, let alone get together on the amount of new money a contract should provide for the workers.

On Oct. 15 the United Steelworkers Union made a strike settlement proposal—the last so far. The union said its proposed package would cost industry 20.4 cents an hour over two years.

The industry studied the package proposal for one day, then rejected it. Executives of the steel firms said the proposal would cost the companies 28.8 cents an hour for two years. Right there they are 8.4 cents apart.

On Oct. 17 the industry submitted a proposal which the union quickly rejected. The industry said its package would cost 29.4 cents. The union said its total value was 23.8 cents. This time a difference of 5.6 cents.

Combination

When the union and industry refer to a package they are talking about a combination of increased wages and fringe benefits such as insurance, pensions, differentials between jobs and a number of other items.

The companies always figure how much a wage or package increase will boost the cost of vacation pay, holiday pay, overtime, Sunday premiums and the like and add these figures to the total cost.

The union does not deal in such figures. When it computes the cost of a package it figures only the basic costs. To the union a seven-cent hourly increase costs seven cents—no more, no less.

In its last proposal the industry offered to make provisions for a three-cent-an-hour cost of living increase if government figures indicated the cost of living rose that much or more above what workers got in the contractual agreement.

But when the industry figured the three cents into the cost of the package it was listed at 3.6 cents. The six-tenths was the company estimate of what overtime, holiday and similar costs would be increased by such a pay boost.

80 Perish In Hurricane

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Eighty persons are known dead and 100 missing in the hurricane-hit Pacific port of Manzanillo, reports from the area said Wednesday night. Estimates put the number of injured at 500.

It was feared many of those listed as missing would be found buried in the wreckage of houses and other buildings.

Good Morning!

There is one certainty about women: they talk less in the month of February.

Quick Glances At Steel Strike

By The Associated Press

COURT ACTION—U.S. Supreme Court rejects government plea for procedural speed-up to decide if strike must end temporarily under Taft-Hartley injunction. Union still has until Monday to file appeal for review of adverse lower court ruling, but indicates will do so Friday.

Negotiations—Top negotiators resume industrywide talks in Pittsburgh Thursday. Individual company sessions continue; United Steelworkers accuse Wheeling Steel Corp. of failing to bargain.

Mediation—Joseph Finnegan, top federal mediator, schedules negotiations in Washington Monday if Pittsburgh talks nonproductive.

Other Developments—President Eisenhower says Kaiser Steel Corp. settlement should be signal for general agreement.

Idle—Half a million Steelworkers, about 280,000 in steel-related industries. Strike in 107th day.

Losses—Steelworkers, 70 million dollars a week in wages; industry, 300 million a week in production.

Issues—Union wants wage-fringe benefit increases companies term too costly; industry wants work rule changes union opposes.

Bid Date Set For New Church

SAYLORSBURG—Bids will be received here Nov. 4 for construction of a proposed new St. Peter's Brick Church to replace the church whose walls were washed out by heavy rains on Jan. 20 of this year.

Rev. Harold Ulmer of Bangor, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, said last night cost of building, landscaping, driveway and parking area is expected to be in the vicinity of $40,000.

Approval

He emphasized that any bids received must be approved by the board of missions of the Northeast Conference of the EUB Church. Both contractor and bid must be approved, he said.

The conference will actually own the church, Rev. Ulmer said. The pastor said it is hoped to start construction of the building by the middle of November.

Rinker and Kiefer of Stroudsburg are architects for the project.

Radio Causes Interference On TV Sets

THE Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg radio control center is causing some interference with television reception in some sections of the borough.

The interference occurs only while the stations is transmitting. John B. Tretheway, Stroudsburg police chief, said yesterday.

Engineers Contacted

He said engineers have been contacted to review the situation and see if the problem can be corrected. He said it is hoped to solve the problem quickly.

The control center is adjacent to Stroudsburg police headquarters in the bureau's Municipal Building.

Don't You Think It's Time For A Change?

Nov. 8, 1955, the Democrat County Committee promised in the "Daily Record": —

"To assure yourself of an honest government, a sound and economical administration, and to avoid an increase in taxes . . . vote the straight democratic ticket on Nov. 8th!"

In response, the people elected the democrats and they immediately enacted the following tax:

INCREASED COUNTY TAX
from — 11 mills — republican 1955 to — 14 mills — democrat 1956

The democrats also INCREASED expenditures:

from — over $450,000.00 — republican 1955
to — over $635,000.00 — democrat 1956
to — over $701,000.00 — democrat 1957
to — over $825,000.00 — democrat 1958

Castro's Bold Threat

Relations between the United States and Cuba worsened yesterday as the result of the rejection by Fidel Castro's regime of Washington's protest against its rising anti-Americanism.

The Cuban cabinet, meanwhile, imposed stiff taxes on mining concessions in a move aimed at two American-owned nickel and cobalt producing operations in eastern Cuba. Further "hate-America" steps are forecast.

The bearded prime minister is duping the Cuban people in the unchanging pattern of dictatorship everywhere. When things go wrong at home, the masses are whipped up against an imaginary threat from an imaginary foe abroad.

A half million Cubans, once so friendly to the U. S., marched through the streets of Havana on Monday in an anti-American demonstration. They wore badges reading "against foreign aggression."

Their leaders demanded arms for a "people's militia" to defend Cuba against "American imperialists."

This hostile performance was ordered by Castro. His purpose, of course, was to divert Cuba's attention from the conspicuous failures of his regime. He had promised too much to too many.

Castro's drastic social and economic "reforms" have served to dry up or drive out capital which is the cornerstone of the island's economy. Cuba's income from sugar is far below last year, and its tourist business has been severely curtailed.

The little dictator has tried to overcome these national deficits by imposing austerity, curbing imports and raising taxes. His campaign, based on hate for America, may fool his people for a time, but ultimately they will learn the truth.

Ah, Sweet Mystery Of Life!

George Sokolsky Says...

Youth's Travail

Young people today, as ever, are problems to their parents, but for other reasons than formerly. Each generation makes its own confusions. In the 1930's, some became Communist and others New Dealers, mild reformers and seekers for social justice.

Today, there are squares with their noses to the grindstone, who, having despaired of doing much to the world, seek out its physical composition. There are the long hair and short hair musicians who eschew politics and economics but go far back to Bach to justify their imaginative cacophony.

There are Beatniks and anti-Beatniks, both of whom are nihilistic in their perceptions—young people who want nothing but take everything that comes their way. Then there is the rather conservative person, one of whom writes to me as follows:

"... Today there is no commonly accepted set of values in this country on any subject whatsoever. 'Freedom' of thought and expression have been so absurdly over-emphasized that one is a square if one doesn't prefer every opinion with a long line of maybes. Even scientific textbooks are being written this way.

"The only sin today, in academic circles, is having a partially closed mind. Yet disagree with a professor over some minor point of his pet theory, and you end up with an 'F'. This is also confusing.

"What did you go to college for? To learn something, or to learn how to think? Ask any honest looking student of today and he will answer that his only interest in school is passing the next test, no matter how much of a hypocrite he has to be to do so. Tough life, isn't it?"

This complaint I hear on all sides. An "A" student got a "D" on a test because she did not accept her instructor's point of view on a matter concerning which her father is a well-known expert.

The instructor is not and could not be expert, but the instructor had the job and could do the marking. In my opinion, that instructor was a fool.

I was talking to a young lady who was saying things that she did not believe to be true. I asked her why.

She replied that she did not dare get mixed up because if she did not parrot her professor she would get a bad mark.

I suggested some well-established reading to another student; she replied that outside reading might confuse her and she would flunk her test.

The real problem here is not intellectual bigotry but physical and mental laziness. The instructor, having worked out the questions and the answers (sometimes it is done by a committee), does not want to be challenged by novelty, by the student who thinks things out for himself, who reaches another conclusion. Perhaps the instructor is not intelligent enough to capture a new idea or a new method.

For one of the greatest faults of our educational system, particularly in the best colleges and universities, is that the very top men usually devote themselves to research, or to money-making as experts.

Cross Currents Beset Path To Summit

Washington — President Eisenhower wants to limit discussion at the forthcoming summit meeting to the problems of Berlin and disarmament.

He is determined to keep the agenda down to these two matters in order to keep the meeting short and, more important, to find out once and for all whether the Soviet leaders really want to ease world tension or just talk about it.

Oddly enough, government experts believe that the President will have more trouble in working up an agenda with the Allies than he will have from the Russians. West Germany's leaders are deeply concerned about the outcome of any talks on the future status of Berlin.

France, on the other hand, is reluctant to discuss disarmament at this stage of her own atomic weapons program. The French have been extremely sensitive to their long lag in atomic weapons and fear that the U.S., Britain and Russia will try to freeze atomic weapons at their present status.

France's leaders claim they cannot tolerate such an agreement, as it would relegate their country to the status of a second-rate power for the foreseeable future.

England is pressing so hard for a summit meeting that she is likely to side with whatever view seems predominant on matters of an agenda. If the Allies are hopelessly split, some informed persons in the State department believe she may even side with the Russians on the question.

President Eisenhower is fully aware of the cross-currents that beset the path to the summit. He therefore is advocating a western summit meeting first to thrash out differences and face the Russians as a united force.

Ike-Nixon Rift? — You can discount those reports of a rift between President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon over Russian policy.

A story has been going the rounds that the two have fallen out over the invitation to Nikita Khrushchev to visit the United States. According to the account, Nixon was opposed to the visit and has been trying to disassociate himself from it.

But all efforts to trace it to its source have been in vain. No one in a position to know will own up to it, either on or off the record. All of them denounce it as untrue — a smear — and an obvious effort to put Nixon in a bad light.

The fact is that President Eisenhower has spoken of Nixon in the highest terms through the years, and just recently has praised him unstintingly for his good showing in Russia.

The Allen-Scott Report

Senator Shuns Primaries

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington — One thing is now certain regarding Senator Stuart Symington's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Missouriian is staying strictly out of state primaries.

Every one of next year's presidential primaries will be shunned by him. That is the inside work of Symington's leaders and supporters throughout the country. They are being emphatically told to do nothing that would embroil him in these state contests.

This significant backstage policy was decided on at the strong urging of Symington's foremost backer and campaign adviser — former President Truman.

In Truman's blunt opinion, presidential primaries are "largely the bunk."

"They are not much more than local popularity affairs," asserted Truman. "All they do is play into the hands of the other fellows. Look at what happened to Kefauver. Stay away from these primaries because you have everything to lose and nothing to gain by running in them."

Similarly, Symington is following another piece of advice — to bear down on what he characterizes as "fantastic waste, confusion and muddling in the Defense Department."

In the nationwide tour the Missouriian is now making he is charging this bungling has "cost taxpayers more than $100 million in the last few years."

Hammering at this defense issue is much favored by Clark Clifford, special White House counsel under Truman and another of Symington's top strategists. In support of his view, Clifford is citing the fact that Symington is receiving considerable mail on this matter, and hearty responses from audiences.

Barring a change in present plans, Missouri State Chairman Wilbur Daniels will be named Symington's official campaign manager.

A national Symington committee is also in process of being organized, influential Democrats on this list will include former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Former National Chairman Frank McKinney, Ind., California oilman Edwin Panley.

Politics—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson is seriously considering a trip to Alaska and Hawaii, with a major speech in Honolulu on his widely-discussed bill to establish an East-West university there, to be open to students from all of Asia.

Introduced last Summer just before Congress adjourned, this measure will be strongly pressed by Johnson in the coming session as part of his educational program with a $100 million fund for government-guaranteed loans of $1,000 a year to university students.

Sen. John Kennedy has been invited to address the opening of a big art fair in Dallas, Tex., in November.

Speaker Sam Rayburn will definitely not be the permanent chairman of the Los Angeles convention — for two reasons: Some difficulty with his eyes, and the veteran Texan's ardent advocacy of Senator Johnson for the presidential nomination. This last factor, particularly, excludes Rayburn for consideration for chairman.

Illinois' Democratic gubernatorial race looks like it may become a bitter brawl. Steve Mitchell, former national chairman, has already thrown his hat in the ring. State Treasurer Joseph Lohman is making motions like doing the same thing. And Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley, who isn't keen about either of them, may put a candidate of his own into the field.

Surprising as it may sound, certain of Senator Estes Kefauver's zealots are trying to revive his twice-blighted presidential aspirations. They are writing letters to one-time Kefauver delegates saying he will soon be back in the limelight with a dramatic investigation of prize fighting and its infiltration by hoodlums, and to be ready to make the most of that.

It was the Tennesseean's televised crime probe that started him on the White House trail in 1952. Meanwhile, he faces a tough re-election fight back home next year, and is working busily at that.

Inside The GOP—Vice President Nixon is expanding his speaking schedule to meet Governor Rockefeller's increased activity. Nixon is arranging to go into every state and center visited by the New Yorker.

Henry Ford II is backing a group of liberal Republican leaders in Michigan against the faction led by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. At one direct clash between them, at a Detroit luncheon last week, Ford vigorously warned Summerfield against trying to oust State Chairman Lawrence Lindemmer and Paul Bagwell, 1958 candidate for Governor. Ford declared he was determined to keep the Michigan GOP "abreast of the times. We are going forward and not backward."

Robert Hill, Ambassador to Mexico, has been warmly praised by President Eisenhower for his outstanding work during the recent visit here of President Lopez Mateos. Hill is rated by the President as one of the country's ablest diplomats, and is destined for higher responsibilities, possibly in the White House.

Opinions Of Other Editors

The Preaching Profession

While some of us do not realize it, the role of the clergyman in our community has become a role represented by men who have undergone many years of specialized training. The old days, when anyone who felt inclined to preach picked up a Bible and began preaching, are fast going out of fashion.

While there are not any standardized requirements for the ministry, and never will be, and while such is not desirable, it is nevertheless true that long years of preparation and study are increasingly demanded of our clergymen.

The job itself, which is another thing some people fail to understand, is a tremendously demanding one. The clergyman who attends to all his duties, the sorrows, the details, the preparation of inspirational sermons, the counseling and the tending of the many people; who need support, advice, comfort or encouragement is working a seven-day week, and often a twenty-eight-hour day.

When we consider the training, the study and the experiences which all go into the process of developing the average clergyman, it makes us realize that the benefit from their services, and their individual worth, is measureless, and reminds some of us that they are among us to serve, and that we should take advantage of their counsel perhaps more often than we do.

The Pennsylvania Story

Looking To Election

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg There is a strong possibility that next Tuesday's series of local elections throughout the state may have an influential effect on the future course of the administration of Governor Lawrence.

At the moment however any such possibility is difficult to assess. Administration leaders themselves are not sure even at this late pre-election date just what to expect and in turn just what the results ultimately may indicate.

One thing appears certain. Administration forces are looking to Tuesday's vote to provide some clue as to whether they should persist in present far-reaching policies, or taper off into more mellow fields.

In this respect it is unfortunate there is to no top-flight statewide issue at stake on which some sort of sound judgment or evaluation can be pegged.

As matter stand at the moment it must perforce resolve itself into a relative question of interpretation of how the electorate handles party candidates for local offices.

Advices to this column indicate that if Democrats continue to hold — generally — the offices they already have with possibly a slight gain, Administration forces will be prone to view this as just about as close as mandate as possible in an off-year election.

Should this develop, it is expected this in turn will mean a continuance of their basic policy of persisting in their somewhat far-reaching goals — notwithstanding the politically-split Legislature that so far has tied them in knots.

As an example — a slightly better than break-even tab November 3 on the local front may well mean a step-up in the strong determination of administration forces to hold more firmly to their record-breaking $1.8 billion budget which Republican anti-administration forces have stoutly opposed in favor of appropriation cuts.

Additionally, what Administration forces read into the vote is expected to have much to do with the spirit, degree and determination with which they enter compromise talks when they are resumed November 9 following Tuesday's elections.

Tied in also will be the degree of dogged persistence with which administration forces will pursue other heretofore hardfought goals in such fields as education, mental health, industrial development of depressed areas, improved labor legislation and a number of their similar programs — locked tight in legislative halls with anti-administration forces holding the key to the door.

In the man it should be noted that the Lawrence Administration actually has pulled a leaf from the Democratic Rooseveltian era in seeking what are really widespread social reforms for Pennsylvania. This is the backbone of the current Administration's concepts.

Whether this is popular or meets with the approval of the electorate of the state as a whole no one knows, for since its introduction this year there has been no opportunity for a clear-cut indication.

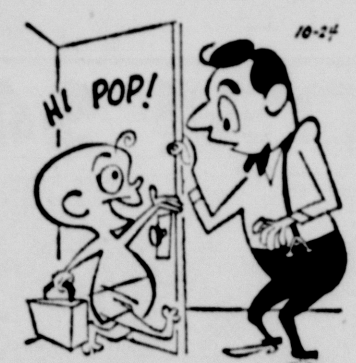

Tuesday's local elections may provide the closest opportunity available for an observation in this direction. Even these results however can by no means be accepted as conclusive in light of the strictly local issues involved. However the contents may offer some what of an indication at least — which is what Administration forces are counting on.

Try and Stop Me—by Bennett Cerf

Shepherd Mead has these words of wisdom for brand-new fathers (you'll find said words in his book: "How to Succeed with Women Without Really Trying"); "What a different place your house will be when the new little one comes home from the hospital! Lose no time: get acquainted. You must learn to know your baby, and the sooner the better. You will find there is a Golden Time: a ten-minute period following each bath during which your baby will smell fresh and clean. Take advantage of this. Dandle him, both on the knee and free-hand. A little dandling will go a long way.

"Get to know your baby. Most important, let the baby know you!"

In his characteristically memorable short story, "The Unbearable Bassington," Saki wrote about two schoolmasters discussing the young boys in their charge. Said one, "We must always remember they are Nature's raw material." Said the other ruefully, "There are some boys who are Nature's finished product!"

A tourist bought an old canvas in Rome, and lugged it to a 57th Street dealer to ascertain its true worth. "At first sight," opined the dealer, "I'd say it's either a Titian or a repetition."

Halloween Parade To Be Held In Boroughs Tonight

Nine Floats Listed For Line Of March

NINE floats will take part in the annual Halloween parade Thursday night through the business sections of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

They include League of Women Voters, Nazareth Junior Chamber of Commerce, Poultry Farm, Rum Runners, Democratic Party, 40 at 8, Card Club, Moonshiners and Republican Party.

Marshals will be Burgess Edward A. Doran, Stroudsburg, and Jesse R. S. Flory, East Stroudsburg, and Sylvia Dollmeyer, homecoming queen at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Saddle clubs represented will include Pocono, Hill Meadow Girls' Drill Team, Mountain Lake and White Birch Stables.

Prizes will be awarded for the funniest and most original single adults, funniest and most original child and costume most closely related to the parade theme, "Out of This World." First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each category. Another award will go to the best non-political float.

Silver dollars and gift certificates will be handed out at random during the parade.

Marching Groups

Marching groups will include the Tobyhanna Signal Depot honor guard and drill team, Carol Hann drill team from Palmyerton and bands from Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools, Barrett Township High School and drum corps from Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and George M. Kemp Post 346, American Legion.

A block party featuring round and square dancing with music by the Pocono Playboys will be held in Courthouse Square, Stroudsburg, following the parade.

No refreshments will be served as previously announced. The parade starts at Maple Ave., East Stroudsburg, at 7 p.m.

Dr. Koehler Warns About Legislation

DR. R. LeROY Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, warned yesterday that passage of legislation now pending in the State Legislature would throw an extra financial burden on the people of the community.

The legislation, he told the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club, would transfer the cost of operating the Laboratory School from the college to either the parents of the pupils or to the East Stroudsburg School District.

At present, 240 pupils attend the school, which is operated in connection with the college's teacher-training program. Dr. Koehler placed the annual cost of running the school at $90,000.

Approval of any one of three bills introduced in the Assembly would result in a 15-mil increase in taxes if the school district is forced to pay the cost. The increased tax burden already facing district taxpayers because of the new school construction program makes it imperative that the bills be defeated, Dr. Koehler said.

The college president also spoke on the serious problem facing the nation's colleges due to the growing population. In Pennsylvania alone, he said, 183,000 young people are now attending college. By 1970, places must be found for at least twice that many students, Dr. Koehler predicted.

Even if colleges undertake a substantial building program immediately, it is doubtful whether they can keep pace with the growing enrollment demands, the speaker declared. As a result, he added, entrance requirements will continue to become more and more rigid in the years to come. Citing conditions at the local college, Dr. Koehler said that, starting next year, only those students who graduate in the upper half of their high school class will be allowed to take the college entrance examinations and only those who receive good grades in the tests will be admitted to the freshman class.

Dr. Koehler closed his remarks with an explanation of the National Defense Loan Fund program in which the local college participated.

Community Chest Aid Important To Hospital

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the ninth in a series of 12 articles covering each of the agencies benefiting from the annual Community Chest campaign now underway.)

"THE ASSISTANCE of the Monroe County Community Chest is essential, vital to the operation of Monroe County General Hospital," according to the superintendent, Harry J. Smith. Without the $12,500 being supplied this year by the Chest, said Smith in a recent interview, serious financial problems would arise.

Why does the Community Chest contribution play such an important part? Smith explains it this way: The hospital does much free work, welfare work, in its wards and also in its outpatient department.

During the last fiscal year (June 1, 1958 to June 1, 1959) 7,740 days of care were given on the free ward basis. Since this is free care, how are the expenses defrayed? The State of Pennsylvania, through appropriations, made available to the hospital last year the sum of $45,000 to be used for free, welfare work.

Over the same period of time the total service to non-paying hospital patients amounted to $120,413.97. In other words, hospital authorities found funds to be $75,413.97 short of the amount needed to cover free care. Further, says Smith, for the free work done in the outpatient department there is no reimbursement at all, and the hospital in the last fiscal year gave $9,190.25 worth of such free services.

How does the state figure what a hospital shall receive in the way of financial aid? Smith points out that during the biennium ending May 31 of this year the state appropriated money to be used only for board and care at the rate of nine dollars a day. For any service beyond that, Smith emphasizes — operating room, anesthesia, laboratory facilities, X-rays, drugs, oxygen therapy, physical therapy and the like — not one penny comes from the state. To be completely realistic,

PILL PUSHERS—Nurses prepare appropriate medicines for their patients at Monroe County General Hospital with new dressing and medicine carts now used at the institution. Shown, left to right, are: Mrs. Clyde Schaller, staff RN; Mrs. Wesley Smith, RN, assistant superintendent, and Mrs. William Anderson, staff RN. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Smith goes on, when the cost of these other services is considered, the money from the state represents not nine dollars per day but actually $5.81 per day. The deficit, Smith says, must somehow be made up. Community Chest helps. The amount annually allotted by the Chest is used in entirety for the free, welfare services.

"When the public considers," Smith says "that of the $900,000 budget for the last fiscal year (round figures) 13 per cent goes for free care, they can see why Community Chest is mightily important to the General Hospital."

Smith made this further point: that for charity work in the hospital physicians and surgeons make no charge. Every operation, every laboratory analysis, every visit — these professional services are donated by the staff members at no charge.

C.D. Topic Of Talk Before Lions

"CIVILIAN defense is government in an emergency," Marshall Reese, Monroe County director of Civil Defense said Tuesday night before the meeting of the Stroudsburg Lions Club.

Reese, of Buck Hill Falls, told the club that all citizens should participate in Civil Defense, and he explained that Public Law 875 provided for the guarding against such emergencies as the flood of 1955.

Present C.D. plans, Reese said, provide that all citizens of the state should be prepared to sustain themselves for two full weeks after any such disaster, and, where possible, to render assistance to those persons well-prepared.

One of the terrible complications accompanying the disaster of bombing might be nuclear fall-out, Reese said. He advocated the preparation of underground refuges which are also strongly favored by national C.D. officials. Other problems, he said, would include rescue, security, engineering, supply and aviation.

Reese said the state's alarm system is among the best in the nation.

Reese was introduced by Lion James Somers, program chairman for the meeting.

October is member month for Lions Clubs, and during the meeting three new members were received. They were William Dellaria, sponsored by Dick Shook; Jack Murray, sponsored by T. Manning Curtis, and J. Ronald Dunkelberger, sponsored by president William Koppenhaver.

The club donated $15 to help defray the costs of the Halloween parade.

Christmas Clubs In Local Banks Ahead Of U.S. Trend

FIGURES COMPILED by the three banks in the Stroudsburg reveal that interest in the Christmas Club, as a source of savings account, is setting a pace ahead of the national trend for 1959.

The Christmas Club, a corporation yesterday stated that there is a three per cent rise in club members throughout the nation this year, with over 13 million Christmas club members contributing about $1½ billion.

The three banks in the Stroudsburg have contributed to the $128 billion national estimate from the approximately 4,800 club members.

Compared to the three per cent rise in club members, nationally, Stroudsburg show an average of a booming 12 per cent increase.

The Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co. has the largest percentage gain, 20 per cent, as they registered 2,200 members with a total savings amount of $187 thousand.

The First Stroudsburg National Bank showed 15 per cent more members than last year, with 1,400 persons depositing $115 thousand.

The East Stroudsburg National Bank shows a membership increase of three per cent, as 1,200 persons entrusted $135 thousand into the club.

Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club a Corp., said, "it is significant that over 13 million Americans have carried through a saving program which they had faith enough to start in a recession year."

The American economy had suffered in the beginning of 1959 after the 1958 recession, but there has been a sharp rebound.

Dorset added that the year 1959 marks the eighth successive year that the Club disbursements have exceeded a billion dollars.

This year's figure of about a billion and a half dollars was accumulated from some 8,000 banks and savings institutions. The average check from each member amounts to $108.

12 Clubs Represented At Meeting

BANGOR—A total of 206 of the 508 members represented by the 12 clubs in District Four, Pennsylvania Exchange Clubs, attended a district meeting last night at the Blue Valley Farm Show Building between here and Pen Argyl.

Highlight of the meeting was a panel discussion by four speakers on Exchange Club functions.

Members were George Desh of Bethlehem, a past district governor, and Clarence Reichard, Allentown; Harry Graybill, York, and Hobart Farber, Allentown, all past state presidents.

Farber also spoke on the state convention to be held June 16 through 19 of next year at Pocono Manor.

Jesse Flory Speaks To B'nai B'rith

JESSE FLORY, Burgess of East Stroudsburg, was the speaker at the dinner meeting last night of B'nai B'rith, at Gap View Inn.

Flory's talk covered a multitude of interests, from the Inter-Borough Bridge, to the Thruway, flood prevention and the East Stroudsburg sewer system.

He pointed out the new construction proposed in the area cover many fields.

However, he emphasized that most obstacles can be surmounted by the more complete cooperation of the entire community.

We handle every memorial order on a personal basis as we do all of our own work.

Voting Machines To Be On Display

EAST Stroudsburg's League of Women Voters has arranged for displays of voting machines and sample ballots tomorrow in two area banks.

Members of the league will man the machines in Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., Stroudsburg, and East Stroudsburg National Bank from 9:30 a. m. to noon and 5:30 to 7:30 p. m.

Duplicate ballots from each of the county's 32 election districts will be available for inspection.

Candidates

The project is designed to acquaint voters with the candidates they will choose in the Nov. 3 election and to encourage all registered voters to participate in the election.

At Monroe Security, Mrs. Arthur Jensen and Mrs. Clyde Burke will be on duty during the morning with Miss Vernetta Decker and Mrs. Charles Fisher in the evening.

At East Stroudsburg National, it will be Mrs. George Levin and Mrs. H. W. Goldstein in the morning and Miss Barbara Drake and Mrs. Frank Butler in the night.

Conshohocken Man Arrested For Shooting Wild Turkeys

A CONSHOHOCKEN man found out the hard way this week that it doesn't pay to violate game laws. He was identified by John Doebbing, Monroe County game protector, as Joseph G. Racicot, 51, of 226 W. 10th Ave., Conshohocken.

Doebbing said Racicot killed two wild turkeys last Saturday. The result: a $50 fine and yesterday Montgomery County game protectors seized his license. He won't be able to hunt again until next season.

Change Necessary

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Labor party decided Wednesday to hold a conference next month to study why it has lost three national elections in a row. The party must attempt to decide whether to give up its Socialist doctrines altogether or to go in for more socialism.

The Daily Investor

Legal Aid Necessary

By William A. Doyle
International Investment
Analyst

Q. My former husband and I were divorced in 1942. I haven't seen him for about 10 years. The last I heard was that he was working as a bartender in a small tavern in Chicago. I have since been told that he died. But I don't know how to find out if that is true.

I have been paying the premium on an insurance policy on his life all these years. I am the beneficiary. Now I would like to collect that insurance. Can I collect? The only other way I could get any money out of this would be to take the cash surrender value of the policy, which I am entitled to.

A. If you can get proof of your former spouse's death, you can collect. A fairly easy way would be to find out if a death certificate was issued. But even that won't be too simple. It would involve checking county death records. If the old boy was footloose, you may run yourself ragged. Actually, you may need a lawyer. If you can't afford to pay, you should contact your local Legal Aid Society.

All the runaway husbands in the country may hate me for this next statement. But there is one outfit which specializes in tracing lost spouses. It's the Family Location Service, 31 Union Square West, New York City. It also has offices all over the country and has a reputation for doing a good job.

If he can't be located or if you can't get any proof of his death, there is still a possibility that you can collect the insurance. You would probably have to start court action.

To win your case, you would probably have to prove that your ex-husband has been missing for at least seven years. And you would most likely have to prove that you attempted to locate him over that period of time.

Here again, you had better use a lawyer. Maybe you will find it easier to settle for the cash surrender value of the life insurance policy.

Q. I had my will drawn up when I lived in one state and have since moved to a different state. If I die, will the will be valid in the state in which I now live?

A. If the will meets all the requirements of the state in which you now live, the answer is yes. The requirements on wills vary a bit from state to state — as to the number of witnesses and such. You should also see a lawyer to make certain everything is squared away.

Q. Please answer this question soon. Time is important. If a man is sued and a judgment is obtained against him, can stocks owned jointly by the man and his wife be subject to seizure as part of the judgment?

A. Probably. And, if time is so important, you had better rush for legal counsel. If anybody ever needed a lawyer, you do.

Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Gray Ladies Service Opens Tenth Year With Survey Of General Hospital's Scope

The Gray Ladies Service of the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross began their tenth year of service to the community with their annual meeting at the Stroud Community House last night.

The meeting climaxed a year of honors for the service, which was awarded both the Benjamin Rush award by the Monroe County Medical Society and the Golden Deeds Award of the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club.

What that service has meant to the community was reiterated by the speakers who conducted an orientation program before the certificates were awarded.

Alan Keiper, Red Cross chapter chairman, mentioned the qualifications for those engaged in the work: Sympathetic understanding, sensitivity, sincerity, patience, cheerfulness, discretion and tact.

Dr. Claus Jordan, chief surgeon at the General Hospital, paid tribute to those qualities which he termed "indispensable both in the actual running of the hospital routine and also in the very important matter of public relations in making the patient and their family feel at ease."

New Hospital Services — Dr. Jordan also outlined some of the new services at the hospital added during the past two years. They included:

A diagnostic isotope department used in the diagnosis and occasionally in the treatment of certain diseases.

A new electroencephalogram under the supervision of the neurophysiologists from Philadelphia in the diagnosis of head injuries, brain tumors and brain abnormalities in children.

Also added were seven semi-private beds in the addition made possible by a grant from the Ford Foundation, a mental health department associated with the Northampton County Child Guidance Clinic, and new isolettes in the maternity nursery and children's department.

Dr. Jordan also outlined the pattern of organization at the hospital which is accredited by the American Hospital Assn., the American College of Surgeons and the American College of Physicians.

Departments Described — The staff is divided into departments, he explained, and listed the head and functions of each department: medical, surgical, obstetrical, pediatrics, X-ray, pathology, anesthesia, and a new department, the general practice department.

He also described the committees of the staff, and the new

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

One of the charms of life is its unpredictability. Things in the office had reached that pre-dinner lull when you can imagine Mother calling the children to set the table and Father taking forty-winks in all the homes in the county, and hungry reporters lapse into silence.

All of a sudden three phones all rang at once and simultaneously three people were telling three reporters about a flying saucer overhead. There was a mass exodus to the lawn and pointings and theories. It's a star—it's a plane—it's Superman—Oh no, that's Riley blasting off.

It was exciting, in a shame-faced sort of a way—to see that thing glowing and pulsating and sending out feelers and sailing away toward the Water Gap. Shame-faced, because I agree with my sister who lives in dread of seeing a flying saucer because, she admits: "I don't believe in them."

But one Barrett husband will be on the launching pad, destined for outer-space this morning. Came time for the Barrett report at the Federated county meeting, and everybody looked at each other and shrugged. "Who knows." A long distance phone call interrupted the meeting: It was from a Barrett husband who suddenly realized in panic that he had the Barrett report in his pocket—and had had it there for the past three days!

And I'll bet Jim Riley felt as if last night was a week long. Besides being embarrassed by having to sit under a canopy of crepe paper he had a constant stream of calls and callers wishing him God speed. As don't we all.

However, it was a gala night. Tonight will come the let-down—unless we get another flying saucer, complete with little men.

ministrative material and technicians' analysis, which amounts to $12.50 for the first pint and $10 for each additional pint. However, if it were not for the blood program, there would be an additional charge of $25 for the blood itself, he explained.

The Gray Ladies are helping each year 5,307 patients for a total of 41,548 patient days in the hospital, as well as 17,849 out-patient cases, he said, and pointed out that 25,081 operations were performed during the past year; 60,500 laboratory examinations; and $9,056 X-ray and therapy treatments.

Miss Ada Banks, superintendent of nursing, also said tribute to the work of the Gray Ladies for the comfort of the patients. She outlined the plan of the hospital and its nursing staff. She also reported that nurses are especially grateful to Gray Ladies who are willing to assist with the feeding of patients, and to perform all the small services which make the patient easier to care for.

Mrs. Harold Ingraham, chairman, also gave an accolade to the Gray Ladies Service at the hospital and at the County Home, and presented chevrons for eight years of service to Catherine Cincotta, Belle Cohen, Gavin, Elsie Stanford, and M. L. Ingraham; four-year chevrons, to Helen Donaldson, Ruth Crowley, Francis Lawson; and five-year pins to Elizabeth Harmon, Alice Sutton, Elizabeth Patterson, Josephine Possinger and Francis Lawson.

There are 80 Gray Ladies in the service, she said, many of whom are among the busiest women in town with families or careers, who nevertheless give faithful time to their Gray Lady duties.

Federated Clubwomen Of County List Projects For All Year At Fall Convention

The Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs will have as their county projects for the year the Community Affairs Achievement Contest and the Girl of the Year award, it was announced at the Fall meeting held last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Mrs. Stephen Moffett, Barrett, county president presided at the meeting when reports were given by the member clubs on their membership and major projects for the year.

The Stroud Community Club is raising money for the Children's Camp Fund sponsored by the Salvation Army by means of four teams, each of which has been asked to make at least $80 toward welfare. Two teams have completed their projects with a card party and odds and ends sale.

The Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg has already raised $300 through bake sales, bus trip and the sale of Christmas cards. Their major projects are the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania and Laurel Manor.

The Junior Woman's Club with 101 members has an estimated income of $1,600. They plan to hold a bazaar on April 9 at the American Legion Home to raise funds for their welfare projects.

The Barrett Community Club's major project is its Pre-School Center and cooperation with the fund-raising agencies in Barrett.

The Woman's Club of the Stroudsburg with 195 members announced that they would again sponsor an "Oscar for an Outstanding Teacher" in the county as one of their major projects.

Hidden Persuaders

The afternoon session also featured a book review by Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, librarian of the Monroe County Library, of Vance Packer's "Hidden Persuaders."

A native Pennsylvanian, the author has studied motivational persuaders and motivational research, and warns: "The problems we face in these areas of apprehension are tremendously difficult and perplexing. I suspect we will find ourselves more and more concerned with them as the coming decade unfolds and as we seek a spiritually tolerable relationship between our dynamic economy and our free people."

These conclusions he bolstered by citing the fact that research institutes employ psychologists, sometimes as many as 1,200 in one company for the purpose of influencing the buying habits of the public.

In a study of women in a supermarket, hidden cameras revealed that a colorful display of merchandise would make a woman's eyes blink much faster, he pointed out, but added:

"Her eyes blinked even faster at the check-out counter when she realized how much has been added to the grocery bill by all the extras not shown on the grocery list."

Research studies by Chrysler Corp. revealed a "wife vs. mistress" motif, he said. Convertibles in the window would draw men inside, but they invariably bought a sedan. Consequently Chrysler put out a hot top convertible which would give the older man the feeling of youth.

Television, he pointed out, has many eye-catching persuaders for children, he pointed out.

However, he expressed the most concern for the depth-probing type of advertising which probed the subconscious mind to include irrational behavior in buying things we don't need. Such motivation has been also used in the political field, he said.

A dinner was held following the afternoon session with the Junior Woman's Club as hostesses. Halloween name cards, pumpkins and autumn garlands and flowers formed the decorations.

Mrs. O. Frank Gaul, Jr., state chairman of communications, was the dinner speaker, stressing the positive approach to getting the most out of motion pictures, television and radio. All such mass media depend on public reactions and approval, she said, and urged members to write letters of approval for good productions as well as protesting the bad.

Episcopal Churchwomen Hear Of Alaska

The first meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Episcopal Church was held on Tuesday in the parish hall. Mrs. A. Starr Phelps opened the meeting and Mrs. Myrtle Bennett led the devotions. A moment of silent prayer was observed for the passing of Mrs. Philip E. Brundage, former Supply Chairman.

Mrs. Charles A. Park, chairman of Christian social relations, gave a short report of the activities of this department, consisting of Mental Health, Cancer dressings, Gray Ladies and the local Council of Church Women.

Rev. Charles A. Park thanked Mrs. Phelps for her long and faithful service as head of the Woman's Auxiliary, which has now been re-organized and is known as The Episcopal Churchwomen. A new evening Guild will be organized and the rector named Mrs. Roy M. Houser, Mrs. Walter Werkheiser and Mrs. Charles A. Rushmore as a nominating committee to decide on the officers who will be elected at a November meeting.

Rev. Park introduced the speaker, Miss Margaret Merrill, missionary to Fort Yukon, Alaska, the last three years. Miss Merrill gave an account of her activities at the church hospital and clinic located at Fort Yukon. She also described the life among the Indians and exhibited a large collection of Indian clothing and articles all elaborately beaded.

The hostesses were Mrs. Eugene Martin and Mrs. Jesse D. Pierson.

Lutheran Church Women In First Convention Here

Some 300 women attended the first annual convention of the United Lutheran Church Women of the Eastern District, held at the Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Glenn G. Neubauer, dean of Easton district, presided at the installation of officers which closed the session which began at 2 p. m.

Speakers included Mrs. Ruth Joram Smith, editor, Lutheran Woman's Work; Edmund W. Jones, art editor of ULPH, and Mrs. Guy E. McGarney who spoke on the "Lutheran Church in Liberia."

Mrs. Ralph Bender, Jr., Numa Snyder and Mrs. John Pentz Jr., provided special music for the programs. Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of the host church, led the opening devotions and Mrs. Menton Field, president of the host ULCW welcomed the group. Mrs. William F. Wunder was in charge of the afternoon offering. Mrs. Robert Morley was in charge of registration.

Mrs. Charles Ruloff led the memorial devotional service. Mrs. William Palmer Jr., was in charge of the offering for Liberia. There were 215 present for the fellowship supper. Theme of the convention was "The Harvest Truly Is Plenteous."

What is a hat?

A hat is an absolute necessity to the average woman for more reasons than she could ever relate. To her husband a hat is something she doesn't need right now, because she already has a dozen.

I began thinking about hats . . . and what they are . . . very seriously this past Monday while preparing commentary for a millinery fashion show of the Barrett Community Club at Convention Lodge, Buck Hill. To assist me, Helen Greiner gave me a recent issue of Millinery Research in which there was an ad of the Biltmore Hat Corporation, located at 1040 Avenue of the Americas. "WHAT IS A HAT?" the ad demanded, answering quickly, "A piece of magic is a hat!" Beneath it I read a very clever and ingenious little essay, which I later used as an introduction to our show. Bright and early Tuesday morning, I telephoned Biltmore Hats to tell them what I had done, and to ask permission to repeat the ad on our Wyckoff radio program and in the column. I talked to a very busy gentleman named Harry Samet, who is owner of the business, and who promptly gave me his blessing and permission to reprint the following:

A hat is a flag . . . a shield . . . a bit of armour . . . the badge of femininity.

A hat is the difference between wearing clothes and wearing a costume; it's the difference between being dressed and being dressed up; it's the difference between looking adequate and looking your best.

A hat is what carries you to church . . . wafts you through a cocktail party . . . turns you into a well-dressed woman on a shopping spree.

A hat is to be stylish in . . . to flow under . . . to flirt beneath . . . to make other women jealous, and all men feel masculine about.

A hat is a conversation piece . . . a morale booster . . . therapy for drooping spirits . . . a flatterer to banish years and put stars in your eyes.

A hat is the pride of the present and the nostalgia of the past.

A hat is what turns a girl into a woman, and a woman into a lady. Better still, a hat is what turns men's glances to your head and turns their heads to the heart.

I am grateful to Mr. Samet for the privilege of quoting his ad . . . and while I have not seen a Biltmore Hat to my knowledge, I am sure if they are half so clever and original, they are stunning!

So are the hats we sell at Wyckoff's . . . believe me, they held their own magnificently with a very beautiful feathered satin from the Sologne de Fabry in Paris shown as a special feature of our Wyckoff Show. This magnificent chapeau had just been received by Mrs. Joseph Swaine of Canadensis from her family in France . . . a truly glorious gift. But it fitted very well into our show, proving once again that when it comes to fashion awareness our Wyckoff departments have it! Many of our own "big 'little hats'" were styled over similar lines of almost identical fabrics and feathers.

I love our deep "bucket cloche" . . . our ten-gallon leopard-type topper from Lily Dache . . . our snug Pastry Chef hat . . . our tiny pillboxes, clips, pixies, and side-swept profiles, all so charming on the pretty women who modeled them. Most of all I love our group of man-styled fedoras, derbys and coachman hats, some of them swathed in gracefully draped nylon veiling. But then . . . I LOVE HATS. Beaver . . . velvet . . . feather . . . flower . . . satin . . . lace . . . or felt. Whatever their fabric, they are the stuff of which dreams are made. Every stitch is part of a magnificent flirtation . . . with life . . . with love . . . with whatever makes a woman's personal world go around.

Area Rebekahs Make Donations

Tannersville — The newly installed Noble Grand, Mary Jean Learn, presided when the Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge of Tannersville met in the lodge hall on Oct. 21.

During the business session it was voted to contribute $12 to the welfare fund and blood bank of the Odd Fellow's Welfare Bureau of Pennsylvania. A donation of $5 was made to the Rebekah Home, for the harvest home fund.

Plans were made for a delegation to attend the district meeting of Luzerne, Carbon and Monroe county lodges to be held at Shickshinny, on Friday Oct. 30.

Announcement was made that the next regular lodge meeting would be held in the lodge hall on Wednesday night, Nov. 4. All officers are requested to wear short white dresses.

On Thursday night, November 5, degree team practice will be held in the lodge hall at 8 p.m.

Following the business meeting a hobo party was held. Prizes were awarded to Cora Sebring, Irene Werkheiser and Elsie Rowe.

Neighborhood Girl Scout Party Saturday

To celebrate Juliette Low's birthday, the East Stroudsburg Neighborhood Girl Scout Council, will hold a get-together on Saturday, October 31, at 1:30 in the East Stroudsburg Junior High auditorium.

There will be movies, songs and refreshments for all scouts, Brownies and leaders in the East Stroudsburg area.

Beakleyville Baptist Party

The annual Halloween party of the Beakleyville Baptist Sunday School will be held Saturday night at 7:30 at Camp Sunnybrook, off Route 209. All members and friends are invited and urged to dress up. The grand march will start at 8 p.m. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

2-door 6-passenger Brookwood

Chevy's got just the wagon you want for '60—at a price that'll make you want it all the more.

Five fresh-minted models—ranging from the thrifty Brookwoods to the nifty Nomad—and each as good lookin' as it is good loadin'.

From clean-thriving grille to trim tailgate, these wagons are newly styled to carry you away first time you lay eyes on them. And they've got the kind of cargo space (over 10 feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the tailgate) to carry away most anything you want to take with you. There's more room for front passengers, too, thanks to the way Chevrolet engineers have trimmed down the transmission tunnel.

Chevy's the only leading low-priced wagon that cradles you with Full Coil springs at all four wheels—so you ride right whether you're traveling loaded or

High School Girls Invited To Pageant

SENIOR high school girls are being invited to enter the Pennsylvania Junior Miss Pageant which will be held in Reading this year under sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Robert Miller, of Stroudsburg, has been selected to conduct the local contest to name the "Pocono Junior Miss" who will compete in the state contest.

She has called a meeting for all interested girls for tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. in the YMCA. She said seniors 18 years old and younger from all high schools in Monroe County as well as those in Bangor, Pen Argyl and Newfoundland are invited to attend.

The winner of the state contest will be awarded a four-year college scholarship and the right to compete in the national pageant, Mrs. Miller said.

The local contest is not to be confused with the Miss Pocono Mountains Pageant which is also held annually under Mrs. Miller's direction.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, Oct. 29, 1959

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Friendly planetary influences particularly sponsor the artistic professions, home and family interests, also unusual endeavors if sound in principle.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Fine Venus rays encourage your personal affairs, promise family happiness and benefits. This is a time in which to forge ahead—but with your usual common sense.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Don't look at any sudden disappointments as final. You have opportunities galore now but it may take extra patience to find them and work with them. Don't fret if all ideas don't click immediately.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Another good day! Your innate ability and charitable nature will be rewarded by benefits from unexpected places. Strengthen business and personal ties.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Vigorous matters, home and private affairs are still governed by friendly Sun rays. A highly successful day! It's mostly up to you.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Although you may not be as keen and mentally alert as usual now, the day holds advantages and promises beneficial returns for all good efforts and sound ideas.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—You have very helpful aspects to aid you in worthwhile undertakings, especially if they are generous in scope, and you are unselfish in motive. A good day for clever and artistic folk.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Not especially inspiring rays for vigorous and laborious work but a worthwhile activity in which cleverness and skill are required can move ahead satisfactorily.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Not wholly encouraging for quick action, but this is a day for sound attainment through constant effort and sensible management. Keep striving.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—Similar indications to Sagittarius now. Be smart in planning procedure; don't make unrealistic demands. Know your facts. Have faith.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius)—Uranus rays here spell unusual achievement if you handle day's matters as well as you know how and don't waste valuable time on unessential or unproductive people.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—Good Neptune influences. Display your many talents and capabilities and, with faith, step into things with the confidence you deserve.

March 24 to April 23 (Aries)—You! BOIN TODAY are artistic, suited to a scientific or other professional career. If living true to your finer nature, you are steady, fast, dependable, capable. It is well that you like to gather knowledge; keep on doing so for you can always make worthwhile knowledge pay. Control your temper and curb a tendency to dominate. Give others their innings too. Develop your talents and put them to daily practical use.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters under the checked figures to find the message. If the number is less than 6 add 3. The result is the key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Wayne V. Andersen

Andersen To Speak At Art Center

WAYNE W. Andersen, formerly of Berkeley, Calif., and well known in the bay area as an art teacher and lecturer, is being presented by the Pocono Art Center in a special lecture and discussion on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. The general public is invited.

In connection with the present exhibition of paintings by Cullen Yates showing in the Center, Andersen will talk about this artist in relation to the period in which he lived and painted. He will bring slides and pictures to project in order to make a visual presentation of the era which produced Cullen Yates and painters like him.

Andersen, who directed the Denver Art Center in 1952 and lectured at Denver University, is at present studying at Columbia University, N.Y., to get his Doctor's Degree in the history of art.

He recently moved to Monroe County with his family and spends his weekends in Minisink Hills.

Developed System
He has developed a system of teaching art by the critique method, which has had great success in the stimulation of creative art among his students. For this reason, Andersen was invited, together with Henry Schaefer-Sumner, also of Berkeley, to conduct a seminar on the Creative Approach to Teaching Art at New York University. This will take place next April.

He will shortly publish a book on new sculpture in the United States, and is writing one on children's art. His wife Ebba is a sculptor.

WE REACHED the epitome of success in the grid predicting field last weekend when we rode the clouds so high that we named 15 winners, had many a loser and came up with two ties. Perhaps it would be a good idea if we took a saliva test to see if we are alright!!!

With the 15-0-2 record of last week our over-all mark shot to 67-right, 21-wrong and four ties. This zoomed our seasonal log to a .761 norm—or a pickup of 42 points in seven days.

This week we'd love to stay in those lovely clouds but like all "great" men we'll have to start the downward climb after hitting the high spot. Anyway, we liked being there even if it was only for a few days.

Here's this week's outlook:

EAST STROUDSBURG TEACHERS OVER BLOOMSBURG—It is a homecoming day tilt for the Huskies and naturally they will be out to show the partisan fans what they are made of. However, ESSIC should be in better physical and mental condition this Saturday with the return of several stalwarts and the chance to give first-year coach John Gregory a probable winning season via a triumph.

STROUDSBURG HIGH OVER CATASAUQUA—We're going away out on the limb in this one. But we feel Walt Bjorn has the horses to thump anybody if all runs well. Last week the Mountaineers unveiled a classy runner in Doug Wright to go along with proven Bill Schoonover. And if Davey O'Connor recovers sufficiently enough from a leg injury, Stroudsburg will have more power. Catty is a defensive-minded eleven though and no doubt will cause the Mountaineers offense plenty of trouble before the 48 minutes are over.

EAST STROUDSBURG HIGH OVER HELLERTOWN—This is our second upset game. East Stroudsburg will be facing its toughest foe of the season in the Panthers who are loaded. Hellertown is not only a running outfit but can pass for the distance of the field just as efficiently as and more quickly than its ground game. A lot depends on the Cavaliers forward wall and its air defense. It's a big obstacle for Jack Kist to hurdle but if it can be done, he will be the one to do it.

BANGOR HIGH OVER NAZARETH—Dakey Pritchard has his slaters on the move and the Maroon always points for a victory over Nazareth. The Blue Eagles also have been coming on fast the past couple of weeks. But it appears not nearly as speedy as Bangor.

WILSON HIGH OVER PEN ARGYL—The Warriors, stunned by Eastburg last week, will be rebounding. However, the Green Knights won't be that easy of a foe to bounce back at.

PUS X HIGH OVER BIRDSBORO—Like we said a week ago where is Birdsboro and why go against the Royals who have chopped down six straight foes.

NORTHAMPTON OVER LEHIGH—Who else?

SLATINGTON OVER WHITEHALL—This is the poorest Will-Pix eleven in years.

FARMLAND OVER COPLAY—Neither is powerful but the Wildcats are weaker.

HEMLOCK OVER PALMERTON—Bombers land in Hornets nest.

OTHER SCHOLASTIC GAMES—Easton over Central Dauphin; ALLENTOWN CENTRAL CATHOLIC over Reading Catholic; BETHLEHEM over Allentown Dieruff; ALLENTOWN over Hazleton; PHILLIPSBURG (NJ) over Demarest.

COLLEGIATE GAMES—LAFAYETTE over Gettysburg; LEHIGH over Bucknell; MORAVIAN over Albright; HOFSTRA over Muhlenberg.

Rabbit Smothered With Onions

OL' GRANDPA Cottontail, if you should happen to bag him in place of a third or fourth generation offspring, will need a little parboiling to tenderize his aging muscles a bit before you further prepare him. Parboiling 20 to 30 minutes in salted water will do wonders!

Smothered with onions is one of the more delicious ways of fixing rabbit. Cut 2 cottontails into serving pieces, roll in seasoned flour and brown in butter or bacon drippings in a skillet. Transfer meat to a well-buttered baking dish, cover with 1 cup sliced onions, add 1 cup sour cream, and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour, or until tender.

Pheasant With Chestnut Stuffing

Ever since the blight years ago, chestnuts have not been easy to come by with the result that some of the fine stuffings that were family traditions up until Grandma's day are just about lost!

If you can lay your hands on a pound of chestnuts, here is one excellent stuffing for that plump pheasant we hope will soon grace your table. The recipe calls for 1/2 lb. of chestnut meats but we suggest you start out with a pound of the unshelled nuts since they are sometimes badly infested with worms. Make a couple of cuts in the shell of each nut, boil them in water 20 minutes, peel, and chop into pieces about the size of a match head.

For your dressing, saute 1 small onion chopped fine, 1 stalk celery cut fine and the 1/2 lb. chopped chestnuts in 4 or 5 tablespoons butter for 8 minutes. Add one 4-oz. can mushrooms which have been cut up and mix with 2 cups day-old bread broken into small pieces. Season with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Bake stuffed bird in hot oven (425 degrees) 30 minutes, then cover roaster and continue baking for 2 1/2 hours in a slow oven (300 degrees).

Hockey Results
Detroit 3, New York 3.

NCAA Puts Two Schools On Probation

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—The NCAA Wednesday slapped Wyoming and Montana State College with probation sentences for violation of the group's rules on recruiting and financial aid to athletes.

The action brought to four the number of schools so penalized by the group during its three-day meeting.

Hamline University of St. Paul, Minn., was reprimanded by the NCAA Council, policy-directing body for the 550-member organization, for violating rules on try-outs.

Wyoming, currently leading the Skyline Conference in football, drew a one-year probation sentence, and its football team was declared ineligible for any post-season bowl games. As conference champion last season, Wyoming played in the Sun Bowl game and was considered a likely candidate for invitation this year.

In Laramie, Wyo., Wyoming's head football coach, Bob Devaney, said he will appeal the decision.

Montana State was placed on probation for two years, was made ineligible for any NCAA national championships and denied participation in any invitational events held in cooperation with the NCAA, including postseason football bowl games.

Just Off Ban
Montana State came off NCAA probation only a year ago. The school was placed on one-year probation June 1, 1957 for playing in a bowl game without NCAA approval.

Both sentences, announced by NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers, are effective immediately.

Tuesday Arizona State University at Tempe was placed on probation for two years and the University of Mississippi for one year.

Byers said 13 other cases "are being held in abeyance." He did not identify the schools nor indicate when those cases may be decided.

SF's Cepeda Soph Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants, the National League's rookie of the year in 1958, Wednesday was named the circuit's leading sophomore of 1959. He edged Vada Pinson of Cincinnati in the annual Associated Press poll.

Cepeda collected 86 of the 172 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. Pinson drew 66.

Batted .317
Cepeda, 22, a native of Ponce, Puerto Rico, batted .317 with 27 homers and 105 runs batted in. This was a better performance than his rookie campaign, when he wound up with a .312 average, 25 homers and 96 RBI.

Pinson, 21-year-old outfielder, compiled a .316 batting mark, collecting 205 hits, 30 homers, and 84 RBI. He led the league in doubles with 47 and runs scored, 131.

Dick Stuart of Pittsburgh was third in the balloting with six votes.

Engle Named All-Stars Coach

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Coach Charles A. (Rip) Engle of Penn State has been named co-coach of the National All-Stars for the second annual Copper Bowl football game in Phoenix Dec. 26.

His acceptance fills the coaching staff for the game which matches all-stars from the Southwest, Big Eight, Skyline and Border conferences against the Nationals, representing other sections of the country.

Engle will work with Don Clark of the University of Southern California with the Nationals.

Handling the Southwest will be Ben Martin of the Air Force Academy and Frank Kush of Arizona State University.

Proceeds from the game go to Cerebral Palsy of Arizona, Inc.

Working Agreement

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 3-year working agreement has been signed by the St. Louis Cardinals and the International League's Rochester Red Wings. St. Louis General Manager Bing Devine announced Wednesday.

WVPO To Start Bowling Series

WVPO ANNOUNCED today a 20-week match game bowling tournament to be broadcast each Sunday afternoon. Four of the top men bowlers in Monroe County will participate each Sunday afternoon for points toward a cash prize and trophy at the tournament's completion. Rollouts will be on lanes 7 and 9 at Colonial Lanes on Route 611, Stroud Shopping Center, Stroudsburg. Spectators are invited to attend.

All league secretaries in the county have been provided with postcards. After their league bowls each week they will fill in the four highest triples in their respective leagues and see that the cards are mailed to WVPO. Each week before Wednesday, Ernie Transue, tourney manager for WVPO, will pick the four highest triples from the cards received for the previous weeks league play and on Wednesday contact the bowlers by phone to notify them of their place on the Sunday "840 Classic." Should any bowlers decline to participate the next highest score will be picked and that bowler notified. Four bowlers will participate each Sunday afternoon barring unforeseen circumstances.

Wisconsin Tackle AP's Lineman

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Danny Lanphear, University of Wisconsin's hard-crashing tackle rebounding from an injury-wrecked junior season, was named the Associated Press lineman of the week Wednesday.

The strapping son of a former Wisconsin lineman was voted the coveted award in a poll of sports-writers and broadcasters for his magnificent performance last Saturday in leading the Badgers to a 12-3 victory over Ohio State.

When informed of his selection, Lanphear insisted there was a "lot of luck" to his great play, but called the game possibly "the biggest thrill I've ever had."

Quite A Day
"It's not very often a lineman has a day like that," the 6-3, 200-pounder said. "A few spectacular plays can make a big difference."

Lanphear blocked a punt for a safety in the opening minutes, recovered two fumbles, one halting an OSU drive, and jarred the ball loose from a runner with a vicious tackle, enabling Wisconsin to recover the fumble on its own three.

"He played a magnificent game and deserved the AP honor," said Coach Milt Bruhn. "We're all mighty proud of him."

After a fine sophomore season, Lanphear was hobbled most of the 1958 campaign because of an ankle injury.

Probably the proudest man on the campus is George Lanphear, who played football for the Badgers a quarter century ago. George now is sports publicity chief at the university.

Bowling Highlights

POCONO MAJOR

Swisher Distributing Co. set the league single game for the season with a 1032 first game. They continued their good bowling and swept four points from Stroudsburg Furnace Co. Layton Smoke with 231-580 and Stan Konawalik with 214-572 were high scorers for the winners. R. Kitehen's 212-565 was high for the losers.

Lawson's Automotive rolled a fine match as they swept Nebel's Market 4 to 0. High scores in the match were hit by Bud Williams 255-558, Mel Dunn 214-566, Fred Swenson 209-571 and Frank Laize 206-563.

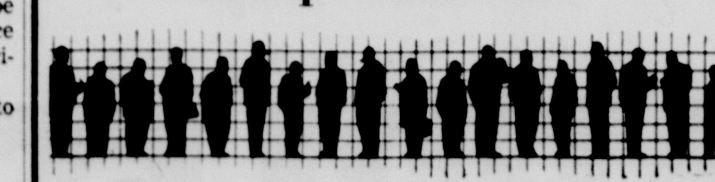

Fabel's Dairy moved into a three way tie for first place as they defeated Happy Hour Tavern 3 to 1. Dick Fabel with 223-597, Merlin Rutt 213-569 and Randy Morris 221-556 were the high scorers.

Pocono Pump Co. defeated Fabel's Gulf as by a 3 to 1 count. Clair Peechatka with 225-585 and Al Andress 200-534 were the best scorers in this contest.

Draft Rescheduled

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Wednesday announced that the annual player draft has been rescheduled and will be held in conjunction with the minor league meetings at St. Petersburg, Fla., Nov. 20.

LSU, Army, SMU Choices

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—To the folks in the magnolia belt there is only one game this week—Louisiana State vs. Mississippi.

"Ole Miss," writes one enthusiastic propagandist for the South, "will make LSU's Chinese Bandits look like geisha girls."

Last week we extended our neck with a series of upset picks and got the guillotine (42-12 for .777), but we're back again:

Louisiana State 14 Mississippi 7; Sorry, Rebels, we think you're big, fast and powerful, but believe Paul Dietzel and his champs have been saving up for this one. A vote for Cannon & Co. in the home frenzy and under the lights.

Army 25 Air Force 20; an exciting aerial battle between Joe Caldwell and Richie Mayo, but it's going to be a dull trip back to Colorado.

SMU 20 Texas 14; Our upset special of the week. We figure Don Meredith will bust loose for one of his best days.

Northwestern 26 Indiana 7; The Big Ten leaders come up with a different hero each week. Who this time?

Syracuse Gets Nod
Syracuse 14 Pittsburgh 0; The Panthers make a good game of it, but Ernie Davis scores a couple.

Notre Dame 18 Navy 12; A bats-ants. The Irish have fewer the between a pair of battered giants. The Irish have fewer bruises.

Southern California 21 California 8; The Trojans have a constant touchdown threat in Clark Holden.

Wisconsin 23 Michigan 7; The Badgers still propelled by title hopes and the Wolverines are looking to the end of the season.

State By 13

Alien Student Sports Plan Suggested

BOSTON (AP)—The NCAA Council Wednesday approved an amendment aimed at regulating collegiate athletic participation by alien students.

The amendment will be presented to the NCAA at its annual convention in New York Jan. 6-8, NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers said. It must be approved by the convention before going into effect.

The move is "designed to regulate the older boys coming over here to compete against younger boys," Byers said. He called participation by foreign athletes a growing trend.

The amendment would:

1. Limit to 10 semesters or 15 quarters alien students' eligibility for all competition, and limit the students to three years of competition after reaching the age of 20, two years after 21 and one year after 22.

2. Require alien students to complete two years of residence at a U.S. school before becoming eligible for any championship events, such as track or swimming meets, but not limited to those sports.

'Hung' Coach Resigns Post

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP)—R. W. Parker resigned Wednesday as coach of the Southwest Texas State College football team, but will finish the season. The resignation came one day after he was hung in effigy on the campus. In five and a fraction seasons, Parker's teams here have won 30, lost 21 and tied 3. He is a brother of Buddy Parker, coach of the pro Pittsburgh Steelers.

Beat English Booters

LONDON (AP)—Sweden beat England 3-2 in soccer Wednesday. England only once before has been beaten at home by an overseas team. That was in 1953 when Hungary won 6-3.

REMEMBER THIS HIGH SCHOOL FIVE—This quintet captured the Lehigh Valley Basketball League championship and moved into the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association's post-season playoffs and lost a one-point heartbreaker to Allentown for the District 11 title at Bethlehem. You guessed it, it is Stroudsburg High's team of which T. Manning Curtis was coach. John Cartwright was the school principal, and Alfred Munson was faculty manager of athletics. Do you know the playing personnel of that year and their managers?

American Loop Adopts Schedule

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League Wednesday adopted a 1960 schedule calling for a one-game opener at Washington on April 18. A full-fledged opening program of four games will be played the next day.

The National League, which approved its schedule earlier, will begin on April 10. The early date was picked to give the National clubs more travel days.

In announcing his league's schedule, President Joe Cronin declined to name the Senators' opening day opponent.

Army Aide Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Col. Walter H. (Cappy) Wells, 68, who helped put Army's football teams in the headlines as public information officer at West Point in the 1920s and 1930s, died Wednesday. He set up West Point's first athletic public relations program. He left there in 1936.

O'Connor Seen Out As PCL Head

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Leslie O'Connor might be making his swan song appearance as president when officials of the Pacific Coast Baseball League meet here Thursday. He stayed in the head chair through the 1959 season despite an anti-O'Connor rebellion among some league directors. Executive Vice President Dewey Soriano, former general manager of the Seattle Rainiers, is expected to take over the top job.
